

OUR MEETINGS & CONFERENCE PHILOSOPHY

At Currumbin Wildlife Sanctuary events, we believe the most impactful meetings happen when people feel connected - to each other, to their surroundings, and to a greater purpose.

Our philosophy is simple: inspire meaningful conversations through nature-led experiences. With three unique function spaces - The Homestead, Sir Walter Campbell Theatre and Sawrey room, set amongst 65 acres of heritage-listed rainforest and wildlife habitats, our meeting spaces provide a refreshing alternative to traditional venues. Here, delegates can step away from the ordinary, spark creativity, and engage more deeply in collaboration and learning.

As a not-for-profit organisation, every event hosted at the Sanctuary also contributes to the conservation of Australian wildlife and environmental education programs. This means our clients are not only investing in a successful event but also supporting a meaningful purpose.

We don't just host meetings - we create experiences that leave delegates feeling energised, connected, and inspired long after the event concludes.

Connect in Nature. That's our philosophy.
